Referral program terms

30% for the first three paid months

Introduce a new business to Asikaso AI. When it becomes a paying customer, you earn a share of the net subscription revenue we receive.

Who can participate

You must be able to receive payment by GCash, Philippine bank transfer, or another method we approve in writing.

How to register a referral

Before the business signs up or makes its first payment, ask the prospect to name you when contacting us, or message us with the business name. A group introduction with the prospect's permission works. Get permission before sharing private contact details and share only what the introduction requires.

The first valid, documented referral gets credit. We use our records to resolve competing claims. Businesses already in our records, in discussions, on trial, or currently or previously subscribed are ineligible. The business must become a paying customer within 90 days of the introduction. We may extend that period if discussions are active.

How we calculate your commission

You earn 30% of net recurring subscription revenue for the customer's first three paid subscription months. Eligible revenue includes the base plan, recurring paid add-ons, and upgrades. We use the amount actually received after applicable VAT, payment-processing fees, discounts, credits, refunds, chargebacks, and reversals. Each deduction counts once.

One-time setup, development, consulting, and training charges are excluded. Free, unpaid, fully discounted, or fully refunded months do not count. Paid months may be nonconsecutive and must fall within 18 months of the first successful payment. For prepaid subscriptions, we allocate the net payment across the months it covers and count only the eligible months.

Example. If we receive ₱2,300 net for each of three eligible months, you earn ₱690 per month, or ₱2,070 in total.

Payouts and participation

When and how we pay

We send your commission within three business days after Polar confirms each eligible customer payment as paid. Business days are Monday through Friday, excluding Philippine public holidays. There is no minimum payout. Choose GCash or a Philippine bank transfer, or agree on another method with us in writing.

Provide your payout details privately. If we need missing or corrected details, we send your commission within three business days after we receive the correct information. We calculate your commission after payment-processing fees. Asikaso AI covers the fee for sending your payout by GCash or Philippine bank transfer. If a payment is later refunded, reversed, or charged back, we may cancel the related commission or adjust a future payout.

Your role as a referrer

You introduce prospective customers and may share accurate product information and approved materials. Asikaso AI handles official product discussions, pricing, contracts, onboarding, billing, and support. Only Asikaso AI can negotiate contracts, authorize discounts, or promise features on its behalf.

Represent your role accurately. Avoid spam, impersonation, fake testimonials, misleading claims, and guarantees. Your own marketing must be accurate, lawful, professional, and clearly independent. Paid ads using our name, logo, trademarks, or branded keywords require prior written approval. We may ask you to correct or remove harmful or inaccurate material.

Changes and ending participation

This version applies to new referrals submitted once Asikaso AI issues these terms. Previously approved referrals keep the terms in effect when submitted, subject to those terms. We may change, suspend, or end the program with reasonable notice. Commission changes normally apply to future referrals.

Either party may end participation at any time. We may reject or suspend participation to protect the program or our customers, or end it immediately for fraud, spam, privacy violations, brand misuse, or other material breaches. Commissions linked to fraud or a material breach may be forfeited. We handle unrelated, valid earned commissions in good faith.

Acceptance and questions

You participate independently and are responsible for your own taxes and filings. Participation confers no employment, agency, franchise, or legal partnership. We decide which customers to accept or continue serving. Earnings depend on qualifying payments.

By joining, submitting a referral, or accepting a commission, you agree to these terms. Philippine law governs the program. For introductions, payout updates, or questions, email asikasoai@gmail.com.
